George Bush Presidential Library and Museum Education Department and the Bush Library and Museum Storytellers Guild present

A HERITAGE OF WHY SAVING MATTERS

This interactive program about saving money tells Ben Franklin's historical role in the development of using paper money. The knowledge and wit of Ben Franklin in dealing with the significance of financial matters is dynamically portrayed by historical impressionist Art Yeaman. He cares how you prepare for your future and gives ideas about saving wisely. Two free programs are offered from 10:30-11:30 a.m. and noon to 1 p.m. at Annenberg Presidential Conference Center's Frymire Auditorium.

For reservations, please email Bush.Education@nara.gov or call 979.691.4006. Bus funds are available.
