

The Education Department of the George Bush Presidential Library and Museum presents

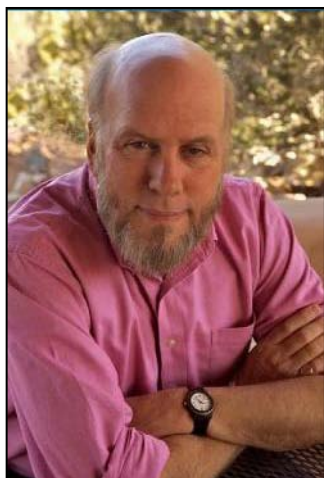

An Interactive Distance Learning Program and Video Conference:

The Art & Craft of Reading and Writing Literary Nonfiction

We invite 9th grade through college sophomore students.

The Biography: Writing Techniques

by James McGrath Morris, Biographical Author

This free program is now available as a recording.

Register at <http://dl.esc6.net>

EXTENSION OF DEADLINE UNTIL JUNE 13th for the open registration to view the recording of this writing techniques program.

Eligibility for the writing competition requires program registration and viewing.

Contact Kimberly Taylor for more information.
ktaylor@esc6.net

Announcing The Frank W. Mayborn Graduate
Institute of Journalism, University of North Texas, inaugural writing competition in literary biography for all high school and college students!

Five student entries will be selected.
These students and their teachers will be given the opportunity to attend the Mayborn Literary Nonfiction Conference on July 22-24. This includes a full-day workshop by Author, James McGrath Morris.
Funding for registration, hotels and meals will be provided. Biographies will be published by The Dallas Morning News.

Register for the recorded program, The Biography: Writing Techniques at <http://dl.esc6.net>

Your registration makes you eligible to submit a biography of a little-known individual who has left a deep and lasting legacy in their community.
Complete contest rules and guidelines available at <http://www.mayborncontest.unt.edu/>

